In association with our practice...

You May Be Entitled to More Than Just Workers' Compensation Benefits.

Many of our clients' injuries occur while at work and they are entitled to Workers' Compensation benefits. Please remember, each Workers' Compensation claim should be evaluated to determine whether the facts permit a lawsuit to recover damages in addition to your Workers' Compensation claim.

In certain situations, a lawsuit can be filed against a person or entity who is responsible for your injuries other than your employer. This is known as a Third Party lawsuit. This allows us to seek damages beyond your Workers' Compensation recovery including pain and suffering, disability, disfigurement, medical expense and wage loss.
